Notes from Jerry Iannece May, 2008:

Vincenzo Iannece came to the US when he was single. He made some money and went back to Senerchia to marry. He married Teresa Cozzi and had 8 children. In the early 20's, he came back to the US with his son Gerardo Iannece (who was in his late teens).

Descendants of Michelangelo CUOZZO and Anna Maria DELGIUDICE

Teresa Cozzi never came to the US. Her husband Vincenzo (my great grandfather did). Back than many Italians would come to the US, make money and than go back home. Papa Nona Vincenzo went to the US as a young man and went back when he was old, sometime in the 1950's. They say that his wife Teresa did not recognize him. I have pictures of him too. As for the children of Teresa Cozzi and Vincenzo Iannece coming to the US, Maria Michele, Gerardo, & Elvira did. Some of the children of the other siblings came, but the parents stayed.

Chicago Sun-Times (IL) - June 4, 2003

Deceased Name: Letizia Marzullo, 103; drove husband's political success

At election time for more than six decades, Letizia Marzullo could forget about using her dining room table to feed her family--it was too full of election documents needed by her political powerhouse husband, the late Ald. Vito Marzullo.

The man who became dean of the City Council and a major power broker in Chicago's Machine politics wasn't the one organizing all that paper. She was.

"She used to say she did the dirty work. She'd get the sample ballots ready, put out cards where the polling place was. I remember our dining room table was always full just before the election," said her daughter Ann DeMaria. The electioneering went on from shortly after their marriage in 1922 until her husband retired in 1986. He died four years later at age 92.

Mrs. Marzullo died Sunday at the Arlington Heights home of a daughter with whom she had lived the last few years. She was 103.

She was born Letizia Cozzi in Dover, England, the fifth of 14 children of parents who had emigrated there from Italy. An older brother moved to Chicago and became friends with the young Vito Marzullo.

"They corresponded while she was in England. She came over to see if she liked him," decided she did, and they were married June 11, 1922, her daughter said.

Vito Marzullo already was involved in Chicago politics. He was working as a clerk in the county treasurer's office. He went on to be a section foreman in the city street department, a Municipal Court deputy bailiff and a precinct captain. In 1940, he was elected state representative, a post he kept until he was elected alderman and Democratic ward committeeman in 1953. Whatever his job, Mrs. Marzullo coped with the sample ballots and brochures, and regularly got dressed up to appear on his arm at innumerable banquets.

"She was the dutiful housewife doing what she was supposed to do. That's what she always told us--make sure your husband is comfortable and support him in whatever he does," DeMaria said.

Until her move to Arlington Heights, Mrs. Marzullo always lived in the 25th Ward, first just west of the old Cook County Hospital, then on South Oakley. It was her husband who got a bill through the Illinois Legislature creating the Hospital District that grew up around Cook County (now Stroger) Hospital.

She had no time for anything but her husband, his interests and her family.

A petite, dark-haired, gracious woman, although she lived in an Italian-American neighborhood, "she was very English, really," DeMaria said.

Other survivors are daughters Helen Dimperio, Lee Maiorano and Eleanor Masciola; a son, Robert, 19 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Services will be today at 10:30 a.m. at St. Celestine Church, 3005 N. 76th Ct., Elmwood Park, with burial in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Hillside.

Chicago Tribune (IL) - March 6, 1990

Deceased Name: EX-ALD. VITO MARZULLO, CHICAGO POLITICAL LEGEND

Vito Marzullo, 92, a Chicago political legend who outlived most of his colleagues and even the once-powerful Democratic machine he had come to symbolize, died Monday after a lengthy illness. Frail and in ill health for the last several years, Mr. Marzullo had entered Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital on Feb. 2, suffering from pneumonia and the vicissitudes of old age. He died there Monday.

Born in the village of Senerchia, Italy, on Sept. 10, 1897, Mr. Marzullo and his family moved to the United States in May 1910 and settled in the West Side Chicago neighborhood that would be his home and power base until he died.

In recent years, the former alderman had been in failing health. Mr. Marzullo's death was prematurely reported in the Chicago Tribune last April when, in a journalistic gaffe prompted by late-night deadline pressures, the newspaper published an erroneous report that he had been fatally stricken in his home. Mr. Marzullo is survived by his wife, Letizia; two sons, William V. and Robert; four daughters, Helen Dimperio, Adeline Maiorano, Ann DeMaria and Eleanore Masciola; 19 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

Visitation will be from 4 to 9 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday in Salerno's Galewood Chapel, 1857 N. Harlem Ave. Mass will be said at 10 a.m. Thursday in St. Callistus Catholic Church, 2167 W. Bowler St

Notes from the web: During World War I, the Bersagliere became the first cavalry without horses! They were equipped with war bicycles and carried on trains to close to the front. It was a terrifying innovation for their enemies because bikes move faster and much more quietly than horses and require no food or sleep. The powerful bersagliere could drive their bicycles quickly and silently toward the enemy for sudden attacks.

General Notes for Maria:

Ellis Island Nov 12, 1936 SS Rex

Maria "Lannece Dimuro" age 40, housewife. Last residence was Senerchia. She is going to her husband Antonio DiMuro at 575 7th Ave, NY. A note on the manifest says she is "Dis. to husb...440 W. 40th St." Her mother Teresa Cozzi remains in Senerchia.

Note from Jerry Iannece May, 2008.

Antonio DiMuro & Maria Michele's residence on 39th Street in NYC was where the entire family first went when they came here. My dad and my uncle Alessandro (2 oldest sons of Biaggio Iannece - brother of Maria Michele) stayed there until they got places of their own on 9th Avenue. I still remember as a kid going there. We lived on 9th Avenue in NYC (almost everybody did from Senerchia) until I was 3, when we moved to Astoria.

It was quite wonderful. On the hot summer nights everybody would sit out in front of the apartment buildings a sing and talk all night.

Maria Michele (Zia Mariuccia) was like the matriarch of the family. With no kids, so she was very maternal to her nieces and nephews. Especially my dad and uncles, because they were the children of her younger deceased brother. I'm not sure when she came to the US exactly, but I'm pretty sure it was before WWII.

Maria Michele and Antonio DiMuro went back to Italy for good in the early 1960's by ship. I still remember that. We all went to the dock on the West Side of Manhattan to see them off. My dad put me on his shoulders to see. A few years later Maria Michele died. I have a picture of her in the coffin. (they did that). Antonio DiMuro bought an apartment in Salerno and I saw him when I was about 13 upon my first trip back to Italy. He was very sick with cancer and died shortly thereafter.

Maria Michela married Antonio DIMURO, son of Angelo DIMURO and Maria Luigia CUOZZO. Antonio was born Mar 19, 1892 in Senerchia, Avellino, Campania, Italy and died Sep 16, 1972 in Salerno, Salerno, Campania, Italy at age 80.

General Notes for Antonio:

POPE

Robert Pope passed away Thursday, October 22, 2009, in San Antonio, TX. He was born on May 18, 1929, in Chicago, Illinois, to Antoinette and Francois Pope. Bob officially began his career in cooking at the Antoinette School of Fancy Cookery at the age of fourteen when he was teaching cake decorating at his mother's school. In 1951, he joined his father and brother in a live television show called "Creative Cookery," which ran for twelve years on three major stations. Bob collaborated in the publication of five family cookbooks, one of which, The Pope School Cookbook, sold over one million copies. The Pope family also wrote newspaper columns, promotional collections of recipes for major food companies, and conducted research and development for the food industry. In the Chicago area, Mr. Pope owned and operated two fast-food establishments, produced and marketed gourmet frozen foods under the Pope label, and was a social caterer. He was instrumental in the founding of a company to manufacture and distribute natural charcoal for home barbecue and industrial users. He was also involved in the family-owned frozen food and specialty bakery operation. In 1979, Bob and his wife

Descendants of Michelangelo CUOZZO and Anna Maria DELGIUDICE

Janet moved to San Antonio where he was named Director of Food and Beverage at The Inn at Turtle Creek. Five years later he joined HEB with the express purpose of establishing a fresh food value-added program for its stores. He retired from business in 1995. Mr. Pope was a Stephen Minister leader and was a long-time volunteer for VITAS Hospice, for which he was awarded Volunteer of the Year in 2006. He was a member of Abiding Presence Lutheran Church. Survivors include his wife, Jan, his children, and stepchildren: Robert A. While living in Italy, he served in the Italian army. A parishioner of Holy Rosary R.C. Church, South Beach, he was a member of the church's senior center. Mr. Mazzone enjoyed making wine, tending to his garden and making his own dry sausage. Surviving are his wife of 54 years, the former Eugenia DelGiudice; three sons, Anthony, Jerry and Peter; four brothers, Aldo, Teodoro, Gerardo and Luigi; three sisters, Michelina Ferrara, Filomena Trimarco and Antonietta Papa, and seven grandchildren. The funeral will be Wednesday from the A. Azzara Funeral Home, South Beach, with a mass at 9:30 a.m. in Holy Rosary Church. Entombment will follow in Moravian Cemetery, New Dorp.

Angelo Mario married Eugenia DELGIUDICE, daughter of Attilio DELGIUDICE and Maria Michela ESPOSITO. Eugenia was born Jan 29, 1932 in Senerchia, Avellino, Campania, Italy and died Oct 16, 2006 in Staten Island, Richmond, New York, United States at age 74.

Descendants of Michelangelo CUOZZO and Anna Maria DELGIUDICE

General Notes for Eugenia:

Staten Island Advance (NY) - October 18, 2006

Deceased Name: EUGENIA MAZZONE, 74

Date of Death:

10/16/2006

Would cook 7 dinners for 7 granddaughters Eugenia Mazzone spent much of her time doting on her seven granddaughters, some days cooking seven separate meals so each could have her favorite. The South Beach grandmother died Monday in Staten Island University Hospital, Ocean Breeze. She was 74 years old. Born Eugenia Delgiudice in a village outside Naples, Italy, she immigrated to Manhattan 52 years ago. In the 1960s, she moved to South Beach, where she worked as a seamstress and lived the rest of her years.

Mrs. Mazzone retired about 10 years ago. She enjoyed simple pleasures - spending time with her family, cooking, growing tomatoes for her own sauce and taking daily walks and occasional trips to Atlantic City, where she indulged her penchant for slot machines, her daughter-in-law, Theresa Mazzone, said. "She loved cooking for her grandchildren. Whatever they wanted, they got to eat," she continued. "Her grandchildren were her life, I have to say." Mrs. Mazzone was a parishioner of Holy Rosary R.C. Church, South Beach, where she was a Eucharistic minister. The proverbial glue of her tight-knit family, she treated her daughters-in-law, Theresa and Toni Mazzone, "like we were her daughters," Theresa said. "She was just a special woman, not only to her family but to everyone around her. It's like losing my own mother."

Mrs. Mazzone's husband of 54 years, Angelomario, died last year.

Surviving are her sons, Anthony, Jerry and Peter; two sisters, Maria Mazzone and Angela Esposito, and seven granddaughters. The funeral will be Friday from the A. Azzara Funeral Home, South Beach, with a mass at 9:30 a.m. in Holy Rosary Church. Entombment will follow in Moravian Cemetery, New Dorp.

Columbus Triangle To Be Renamed For Vincent Iannece

On Sunday, September 30 the corner of 32nd Street and Astoria Boulevard at the apex of Columbus Triangle in Astoria will be officially dedicated and co-named as Cav. Vincenzo Iannece Corner in memory of the late Vincent Iannece. The dedication will take place on the Feast Day of St. Michael the Archangel, the patron saint of Senerchia in the Province of Avellino, Iannece's hometown in Italy. The renaming was initiated by local residents and the Italian-American community and was supported by Community Board 1 and sponsored in the City Council by Councilmember Peter Vallone J

The ceremony will commence with an Italian Mass at St. Margaret Mary Church at 9-18 27th Ave, Astoria at 1:30 p.m. with the actual street naming at 3 p.m. at Columbus Triangle, the site of Astoria's statue of Christopher Columbus and for more than 75 years the terminus of the annual Columbus Parade. Iannece had presided at the parade since he founded the Federation of Italian American Organizations of Queens in 1972. Many local elected officials, as well as area residents, family and friends are expected to be present.

Iannece, the father of former Community Board 11 Chair Jerry Iannece and the founder, president and executive chairman of the Federation of Italian American Organizations of Queens, died on September 29, 2005. He was a longtime member of Community Board 1 and the Astoria Civic Association and was an outspoken advocate and sponsor of many local, civic, cultural, ethnic, athletic and political projects and events. For his dedication and accomplishments, the Republic of Italy bestowed the title of Cavaliere on Iannece, and he was given a City Council Proclamation during Italian Culture Month in 2004.

General Notes for Robert:

Notes from Benjamin M:

Their son Robert Mazzone started MAZZONE'S ITALIAN ICE, which he ran until his death. His son, Mitch, took over the company but sold it.

From Lollapalooza.com:

Mazzone's Italian Ice was created in 1959 by Robert Mazzone. It began as a small shop in Cicero, IL with 3 small batch freezers that could produce a total of 9 gallons of product per hour. The beginning was a struggle, especially since Robert quit his steady paying union electrician job to start a business producing a product few in the Chicago area were familiar with. However, the risk paid off! Over the years and many small expansions Mazzones became a major player in the national school feeding business and manufactured products for Jenny Craig, American and United airlines, Olive Garden, and grocery chains to name a few. The company grew with many small expansions and at the peak of production could produce 9 gallons of product per MINUTE. We hope you enjoy our menu selection for Lollapalooza this year, especially the newest addition Frozen Hot Chocolate Sorbet.
